

@ the Bumblebee Circle Garden

An outdoor edible
classroom and enchanting urban garden farm in the Heart of Chilliwack, B.C.

About the Host

Laura Cameron – Delisle

*Local Food Grower, Community
Gardener, Beekeeper, Circlekeeper, Environmental Educator. M.A., B.A.*

With eight years (+)community-building experience in various roles including Community Coordinator for environmental non-profits, volunteer board of director for grassroots communities – Laura has deeply explored “What is Community”, and “How do we create Healthy Communities?” A member of the Art of Hosting community, a Circle practitioner since 2004, and a former student of experienced Circle leaders (Way of Council, Circle Way). She studied Circle and its significance for Environmental Education as a Master’s thesis (2009-2011) and continues to find ways to utilize social processes for creating individual and community well-being...For all us, all beings.

Building a thriving Community Garden involves putting people first. It’s more than building a foodscape, it’s about building healthy relationships with others. How might we utilize Circle, Open Space and World Café to create healthy relationships in a community garden? Come out and discover how to Grow “Community” in a garden.

www.thebumblebeecircle.com

Growing “Community” in a Community Garden, August 7th ‘13

An introduction to community-building designs – World Café, Open Space & Circle – for group well-being, positive communication, and team engagement. For garden leaders looking to nurture positive relationships and a sense of community within an existing or envisioned community garden.

When: Wednesday, August 7th 9:30am – 4pm. Cost: $35 / adult.

Spaces available: 15 max. Fresh, local, organic lunch provided.

REGISTER BY JULY 27th.

REGISTER ONLINE to reserve your spot!

<http://growingcommunityinacommunitygarden.eventbrite.ca/>

For more information contact laura@thebumblebeecircle.com or call (604) 703-0341.